338 Atlantic Avenue that was constructed in approximately 1900. This 2-story duplex is a gambrel-style and is constructed of wood shingles with a front porch that extends the length of the building. See Figure 4-5.

Churches

Rand Memorial Church—CH1

The Congregational Society of South Seabrook was organized by Reverend William Rand. The first church was originally built in 1868. It was rebuilt after a fire in 1905 as a Queen Anne period building and finally completed in 1925. It consists of a gable front main block with a square corner tower topped by a pointed hip roof.

Trinity United Church (Smithtown Methodist Meeting House)—CH2
Constructed in 1836.

Old South Meeting House CH—4

Constructed in 1764 by the Presbyterian Society, the original building was part of Hampton Falls. See Figure 4-6. This 2 ½ story wooden structure reflects the Greek revival style in ornamentation (trim, full-length sidelights, pilasters and full entablature). Through the efforts of the Society, Seabrook was set off from Hampton Falls in 1768. The church was extensively remodeled in 1858 leaving it in its current appearance. The original structure was two stories with its gable roof oriented laterally to the road. This church was used by a place of worship for the following:

- Presbyterian Society of Seabrook 1764-1785
- Congregational Society of Seabrook 1799-1822
- Baptist Society of Seabrook & Hampton Falls 1828-1834
- Evangelical Congregational Society of Seabrook 1843-1836
- First Baptist Society of Seabrook 1859-1952
- Federated Church of Seabrook 1952-1967

Seabrook's first town meeting was held in this building on June 27, 1768. All other town meetings were held here until 1954 except for 1858. The bell in the steeple was first rung in 1861 when Abraham Lincoln took the oath of office for the Presidency. Based on an historic resources assessment performed by NH DOT in 1995 this meeting house was determined to be National Register eligible.

Advent Christian Church (Four Corners Church)—CH5

The Advent Christian Church was organized with about 40 members. The current church was built about 1869 on Farm Lane with simple gable front facade which includes paired entries.
